PROFILE

Felix is a third-year bachelor's degree student with previous legal practice experience from the Tartu County Court and the Civil Division of the Supreme Court. While working in the judicial system, he has drafted, prepared, and analyzed various legal documents and participated in discussions that delve deep into complex legal issues for which clear solutions have not been previously found. Felix has primarily been exposed to civil law, but he is still exploring the specific legal field within this area to find what interests him the most.
